

Hello. I am trying to create a dropdown with about ten selections, then with that selection, make data relative to that specific selection auto populate in separate fields.

For example, If I create a dropdown and I select "home" from my dropdown, I want my street address to populate in the next field, the city in the field after, and so on with the state and zip code. If I were to select "work", I would want my work address to auto populate in the next several fields.

For clarification, I know how to create the dropdown with the selections, I just can not figure out how to get the relative information for each selection in the dropdown to auto populate.

If I select "HOME" from the dropdown, what do I need to do to get "123 Anywhere St" to populate in the ADDRESS field, "New York" in the CITY, "New York" in the STATE, and 55555 in the ZIP fields?
