

Families

There is nothing more important to young children than their family. These books are perfect reminders for caregivers of how crucial they are in their child's life.

Cat's First Baby
by Natalie Nelson

Grandma and Me
by Carole Boston Weatherford

I Love You, Baby Burrito
by Angela Dominguez

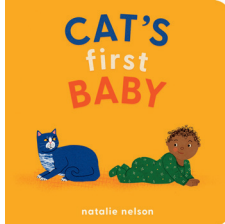

Love You by Heart
by Peter H. Reynolds

May We Have Enough to Share
by Richard Van Camp

My Daddy and Me by Linda Ashman

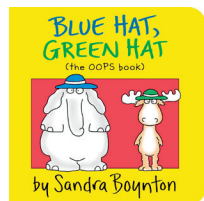

One Special Day by Lola M. Schaefer

Things I Love to Do with You by Amy Schwartz

First Concepts

Children love to learn about how things work in their world. These books will introduce children to some early concepts that they can see through pictures as they hear the words.

A Little Book about Opposites*
by Leo Lionni

Blue Hat, Green Hat*
by Sandra Boynton

Count to Love*
by Andrea Davis Pinkney

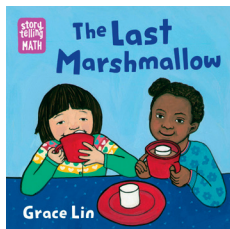

How Are You? ¿Cómo estás? by Angela Dominguez

The Last Marshmallow* by Grace Lin

Up, Up, Up, Down
by Kimberly Gee

Walter's Wonderful Web
by Tim Hopgood

Yum! Yuck! A Book of People
Sounds by Linda Sue Park

BABY BOOKS to GO

Check out a ready-to-go tote bag filled with five board books and a colorful activity sheet.

The books are specifically chosen for infants and young toddlers to match their developmental needs.

mypcl.org • 253-548-3300

To request this document in an alternate format, call Washington Relay TTY 711 for 253-548-3426.

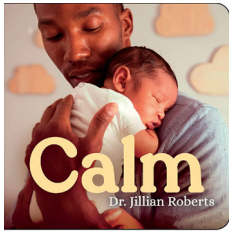

Begin with Books

Books for Babies and Toddlers

Books with Faces

Babies are born with a fascination for faces and love to “read” faces, especially of the people they love. Below are some books with close-up faces of babies, young children and their families.

Brown Sugar Babies
by Charles R. Smith, Jr.

Calm by Jillian Roberts

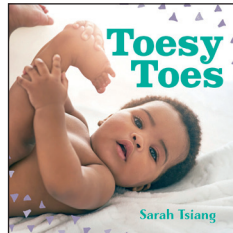

Global Baby Playtime*
by Maya Ajmera

Kiss by Kiss: A Counting Book for Families
by Richard Van Camp

Mittens and Mukluks!: Winter in Alaska*
by Joni Spiess

My Heart Beats by Rina Singh
Toesy Toes by Sarah Tsiang

Tummy Time Friends
by Pat Brisson

Books with Bright Colors and Color Contrasts

Color vision is still developing during infancy, making books that have high-color contrast a good choice to capture and hold a baby's attention.

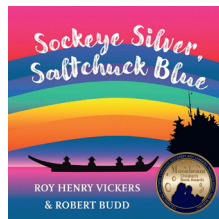

Baby Animals Day and Night*
by Phyllis Limbacher Tildes

Black and White: Visual Stimulation Images for Babies
by Morgan Asoyuf

Hello, Baby Animals!

Sockeye Silver, Saltchuck Blue*
by Roy Henry Vickers

What a Wonderful World by Bob Thiele

Books to Manipulate

Children learn more effectively when they engage with their five senses. When children interact with books they see the pictures, hear the words and can also touch the books, making learning hands-on.

Counting* by Fleur Star

Eric Carle's Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star and Other Nursery Rhymes: A Lift-the-Flap Book*
by Eric Carle

Hide and Seek by Tarō Gomi

Making Tracks: Desert*
by Abi Hall

Moon: A Peek-Through Board Book
by Britta Teckentrup

Skeletitos: Make Every Moment Count
by Susie Jaramillo

We Say Good Night* by Salina Yoon

Where's the Puffin?* by Ingela P. Arrhenius

Books about Animals

Animals are universally popular and children will often make the sounds of animals before they say words. Reading books about animals is a great way to build vocabulary and increase verbal confidence.

A Is for Anemone:
A First West Coast Alphabet
by Roy Henry Vickers

A Cub Story by Kristen Tracy

Dancing Feet! by Lindsey Craig

Doggies: A Counting and Barking Book*
by Sandra Boynton

Books about Animals cont.

Eyes* by Katrine Crow

How to Say Hello to a Worm by Kari Percival

Spots, Feathers, and Curly Tails by Nancy Tafuri

Daily Routines

Infants and toddlers love stories about the familiar and concrete. Books about different parts of daily routines will engage children immediately since they can directly relate to the events of the story.

Bedtime for Sweet Creatures
by Nikki Grimes

Brush! Brush! Brush!
by Douglas Florian

Diapers Are Not Forever =
Los pañales no son para siempre
by Elizabeth Verdick

Hand in Hand*
by Alyssa Satin Capucilli

Hey Baby! A Baby's Day in Doodles
by Andrea Pippins

In the Rain* by Elizabeth Spurr

Leo Gets a Checkup*
by Anna McQuinn

My Hair
by Danielle Murrell Cox

Sunny Days*
by Deborah Kerbel

We All Play = Kimêtawânanaw
by Julie Flett

Where Do Pants Go?
by Rebecca Van Slyke

* For more fun, read other books in this series.